PCI - Legal Terms and Conditions

PCI SSC's approval only applies to payment security devices that are identical to the payment security device tested by a PCI Security Standards Council recognized laboratory. If any aspect of the payment security device is different from that which was tested by the laboratory – even if the payment security device conforms to the basic product description contained in the letter - the payment security device model should not be considered approved, nor promoted as approved. For example, if a payment security device contains firmware, software, or physical construction that has the same name or model number as those tested by the laboratory, but in fact are not identical to those payment security device samples tested by the laboratory, then the payment security device should not be considered or promoted as approved.

No vendor or other third party may refer to a payment security device as “PCI Approved,” nor otherwise state or imply that PCI SSC has, in whole or part, approved any aspect of a vendor or its payment security devices, except to the extent and subject to the terms and restrictions expressly set forth in a written agreement with PCI SSC, or in an approval letter. All other references to PCI SSC's approval are strictly and actively prohibited by PCI SSC.

When granted, an approval is provided by PCI SSC to ensure certain security and operational characteristics important to the achievement of PCI SSC's goals, but the approval does not under any circumstances include any endorsement or warranty regarding the functionality, quality, or performance of any particular product or service. PCI SSC does not warrant any products or services provided by third parties. Approval does not, under any circumstances, include or imply any product warranties from PCI SSC, including, without limitation, any implied warranties of merchantability, fitness for purpose or non-infringement, all of which are expressly disclaimed by PCI SSC. All rights and remedies regarding products and services, which have received an approval, shall be provided by the party providing such products or services, and not by PCI SSC or the payment brand participants.
